

Civil Communication Policy:

Communication between members whether by letter, email, telephone, public forum, (LAG) Facebook, or in person at a meeting shall be done in a respectful manner. All discussions shall be done in line with the purposes of the club. Negative outbursts or cruel, rude communication will not be tolerated, as well as threats of destroying this organization and the health and welfare of the Mustangs and the LBCWR, may bring about correction and/or revocation of membership rights.

Remember that we are here as a club to benefit the horses on the Little Bookcliffs. We are a group of volunteers working together toward that end. It is important that we work with one another like adults, this includes phrasing our suggestions and ideas in a friendly manner and co-operating with each other to get these jobs done. We are all on the same team and no one of us is an island.
